- Improve the quality of wastewater discharged from commercial operations to protect water and drainage infrastructure while reducing the amount of treatment required for recycling the wastewater
- Improve the quality and safety of exhaust air discharged from commercial operations to reduce the danger of fires while eliminating unpleasant smells that affect surrounding businesses and homes
- Treat organic waste at the sites at which it is generated to minimise the creation of methane gas in landfill and to reduce unnecessary road transportation of waste
- Promote the use of accredited "green products" for cleaning and disinfecting to protect users and to reduce the pollution of air and waterways by chemical agents
